

Application Guidelines for the 2026 “China State-Sponsored Postgraduate Study Abroad Program” at Nagoya University

1. Overview

Nagoya University invites students from China to apply for the Academic Year 2026-2027 admissions under the China State-Sponsored Postgraduate Study Abroad Program (“国家建设高水平大学公派研究生项目”), according to the terms and conditions below.

The Program consists of two categories:

- Doctoral Degree Seeking Program (36 to 48* months)
- Joint Educational Program (6 to 24 months).

Successful applicants – those who pass an entrance examination administered by each graduate school of Nagoya University and then are selected as a scholarship recipient by the Chinese Scholarship Council (CSC) – will be granted admission and exemptions from paying the entrance fee and tuition fee.

*Note: The Medical Doctoral Programs in the Graduate School of Medicine are four-year (48-month) programs. Other programs are 36 to 48 months.

2. Eligibility for Application

a. Eligibility Requirements for “Doctoral Degree Seeking Program”

The applicant must be a Chinese national and satisfy the eligibility criteria for the "China State-Sponsored Postgraduate Study Abroad Program" prescribed in application guidelines published by the China Scholarship Council (CSC), and whom one of the two conditions applies to:

- (1) The applicant currently resides in China and has been granted a master's degree
- (2) The applicant is expected to complete a master's degree program (if wishing to enroll in October 2026, the applicant must possess a master's degree by the end of September 2026; if wishing to enroll in April 2027, the applicant must be granted a master's degree by the end of March 2027)

For the Doctoral Programs in the Graduate School of Medicine, applicants will be considered eligible if (1) they have completed or are expected to complete a five-year (or longer) curriculum equivalent to, or higher than, an undergraduate degree curriculum by the end of September 2026 in a foreign country, or (2) after an eligibility review, are deemed by the Graduate School of Medicine to possess academic ability equivalent to, or superior to, that of a university graduate and have received an undergraduate-level education in medicine and are at least 24 years old at the time of enrollment.

b. Eligibility Requirements for "Joint Education Program"

The eligible applicant must be a Chinese national who satisfies the eligibility criteria for the "China State-Sponsored Postgraduate Study Abroad Program" prescribed in application guidelines published by the China Scholarship Council (CSC) and are currently enrolled in a doctoral program at a university in China.

3. Application Documents

All documents must be written in Japanese or English.

Write an item number (1)-(12) in the upper right corner of each document and organize them together in ascending order. Do NOT staple documents together.

We explicitly prohibit the use of generative AI tools to generate text or any other content to be submitted as part of application documents.

- (1) Application Form (attached form, A4 size)
 - The form can be downloaded from the university's website and must be typed, not hand-written.
<http://www.nushanghai.net/>

- Fill out the Form ‘Declaration of Applicable Specific Categories’ and submit it along with any required documents. For more details about ‘Declaration of Applicable Specific Categories’ and deemed export control measures at Nagoya University, please look at page 6.
- (13) For other documents required by each Graduate School, refer to the attachment.

*Documents (5) should be original copies. However, in case original or certified copies are not available to be submitted by the deadline electric copies mentioned below would be accepted temporarily as a substitute. Even in such a case, original copies should be still submitted by a deadline determined by the Graduate School you apply to. Failure to submit any original copies may lead to revocation of admission.

Substitutes for (5) Master’s (or Prospective) Degree Certificate

The following documents issued by 教育部学生服务与素质发展中心中国高等教育学生信息网(CHSI) with its expiration date later than September 30, 2026:

- If applicants have already earned a master's degree: Both 1) Online Verification Report of Higher Education Qualification Certificate (English) and 2) 教育部学历证书电子注册备案表 (Chinese).
- If applicants are currently enrolled in a master's degree program and expected to complete at the time of enrollment to Nagoya University: Both 1) Online Verification Report of Student Record (English) and 2) 教育部学籍在线验证报告 (Chinese).

All those documents should be obtained from the 教育部学生服务与素质发展中心中国高等教育学生信息网 (China Higher Education Student Information - CHSI)

4. Application Procedure

- (1) Important notes before you apply:

A: Contacting the Graduate School (Education and Human Development, Law and Economics)

Before submitting your application documents, you must directly contact the graduate school using the contact information found in the “Contact Information and Document Submission Requirements for Each Graduate School” to inquire whether there is a vacant seat available in the graduate program you are applying to. Please attach your research proposal, prospective advisor’s name, and resume to an inquiry email.

Note: In the case of the Graduate School of Law, it is unnecessary for the applicant to contact an individual faculty member in advance.

B: Contacting a prospective academic advisor at Nagoya University (Humanities, Informatics, Science, Engineering, Bioagricultural Sciences, International Development, Mathematics, Environmental Studies and Pharmaceutical Sciences)

Before submitting application documents, you must contact the individual faculty member whom you wish to be your academic advisor and receive unofficial permission to apply to your intended program. Please express interest, let them know about your intended research topics and background, and ask if there is any specific qualification you may have to satisfy. (Please refer to the graduate school website listed in the attachment “Contact Information and Document Submission Requirements for Each Graduate School” for faculty contact information.)

C: Contacting the Graduate School (Medicine)

Before submitting application documents, you must contact the email address listed in the “Contact Information and Document Submission Requirements for Each Graduate School” . When making your inquiry by email, please attach your research proposal, the name of your desired academic supervisor, and your curriculum vitae (CV).

You are required to have an interview with the academic supervisor you wish to work with. If you receive permission to apply to the program as a result of the interview, please ask the supervisor to submit a “Evaluation Report from Prospective Advisor” with the interview results to the graduate school.

Please note that your application will not be accepted without the submission of the Evaluation Report from Prospective Advisor.

(2) Application Procedure

Please enclose all documents listed in the Section “3. Application Documents” and write "China State-Sponsored Postgraduate Study Abroad Program" (or "国家建设高水平大学公派研究生项目") clearly on the envelope. To send application documents, please use a registered or express mail service. Applicants also need to email a digital copy of the application form along with, if applicable, a scanned copy of 1) Online Verification Report of Higher Education Qualification Certificate (English version) and 教育部学历证书电子注册备案表 (Chinese version) or 2) Online Verification Report of Student Record (English version) and 教育部学籍在线验证报告 (Chinese), all of those issued by the 教育部学生服务与素质发展中心中国高等教育学生信息网 (China Higher Education Student Information-CHSI). Please use the information found in Section "10. Contact (1)."

5. Application Deadline

- (5) Nagoya University (Tokai National Higher Education and Research System) has established the Tokai National Higher Education and Research System Security Export Control Rules (hereinafter referred to as the "Rules") in accordance with the security export control system under the Foreign Exchange and Foreign Trade Act (“FEFTA”). We conduct rigorous screening for exports of goods and transfers of technology (including the admission of individuals).

Please note that if an applicant is found to be in violation of the Rules, admission may not be granted even if the individual passes the entrance examination, or research activities after enrollment may be restricted. For more information, please visit the website below.

Additionally, individuals subject to these restrictions will be notified separately. Please be aware that in such cases, if an examination fee has already been paid, it will not be refunded.

- (6) In November 2021, in accordance with the clarification of the scope of control for “deemed exports” under the Foreign Exchange and Foreign Trade Act (“FEFTA”), some provision of sensitive technology to faculty members and students by universities and research institutions has become subject to control under the FEFTA. Consistently with this change, when applying for faculty positions or to study at the University, faculty, staff, and students will be required to submit a “Declaration of applicable specific categories” based on the “Flowchart for determining applicable specific categories.” Faculty, staff, and some students will also be required to submit a “Letter of confirmation” at the time of their recruitment or admission. If you fall into one of the Categories 1 to 3, please provide a reason and submit the relevant evidence.

If you are unsure whether any of the above categories apply, please contact the office listed below.
